

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A furniture item includes at least a pair of members ~~(2,3)~~ defining a dimension in one direction of the item, the members of the pair being connected together by adjustable connecting elements ~~(4)~~, the arrangement and construction being such that the dimension in one direction can be adjusted by the adjustable connecting elements. The furniture item also includes a second set of members that are also connected by adjustable connecting elements in another direction. With the above arrangement, the furniture item can be adjusted both longitudinally and laterally.